Message from CEO

Year 2015-2016 was another year of struggle for AWS. AWS continued working on E-guard, Shelter, Livelihood trainings, WASH, Tobacco control, capacity building and awareness programs, human rights, Legal Rights, Right to information, Women Rights, child rights and specially child labor. AWS remained involved in activities supporting the District Government. Awareness campaign about dengue fever and training of small farmers on modern techniques of dairy & agriculture were the most important topics in addition to WASH and Health & Hygiene activities. AWS workers had to face hardships due to security threats from both sides the government and the community. It was the liaison with the Government institutions which helped in advancement of different activities regarding Human rights and child labor smoothly.

AWS has submitted some project proposals to different donors in the sectors mentioned above, which are in process. AWS has developed syllabi on short term home based dairy trainings to male and female cattle owners. This will be delivered to the deserving communities as and when required.

I rate the working of AWS as satisfactory, I hope we are in taking off stage and do better and better in coming years. I appreciate the efforts AWS Team towards community development under the kind guidance of our President Mr. Ejaz Ahmad Chaudhry and hope to do further better in the field as sky is the limit for AWS.

Thus I present the Annual Report 2015-2016 with a deep sense of satisfaction. AWS managed to achieve most of the desired goals but the journey of development is ongoing.

Barkat Ali Riaz

CEO AWS

In February 2016, AWS's management decided to start its activities in outreach district. President of AWS called the meeting of the board and unanimously decided to set up its regional office at district Lodhran. AWS has a good liaison with the Government institutions which helped in advancement of different activities regarding Human rights and child labor smoothly.

In collaboration with TMA Rajanpur, AWS implemented E-guard project which was based on the capacity building of sanitary workers as they are the most neglected part of society. They were also provided hand cart for the collection of garbage.

In the year 2015-16, AWS organized capacity building events such as workshops, exposure visits, seminars and trainings. Many community members, youth groups and AWS staff benefited from these skill enhancement initiatives on different topics. The major focus was on farmer community and youth.

About AWS

Attia Welfare Society was set up by a group of volunteers in 2007 and registered under Voluntary Social Welfare Agencies (Registration & Control) Ordinance 1961 in 2009 to address the basic need (Health, Education, water, sanitation, hygiene (WASH) and solid waste management), human rights (Women Rights, Child Rights) and issues of agricultural development in the marginalized and flood prone areas of District Rajan Pur, as the District Rajan Pur is situated on the right bank of River Indus and range of Suleman Mountain is on the other side which makes the district as sandwich and always hit the areas with storm water coming from Suleman Mountains and floods from River Indus. This marginalized district always faces challenging situations. Attia Welfare Society with its interventions at grassroots level in collaboration of District Government and cooperation/partnerships with different national and international NGO's and donors is working to reduce / mitigate the problems.

. Vision:

All the marginalized communities are participating in development process with the sense of ownership, living in peaceful, just and prosperous society exercising their basic rights.

Mission:

Our mission is human development through socio-economic and political empowerment of marginalized and deprived communities.

Objectives of AWS:

- Provision of basic human needs (Health, Education, Water, Sanitation & Hygiene and Solid Waste Management) to the ignored sections of society.
- Empowerment of small farmers, unskilled poor women through skills and micro credit programs in terms of income generation activities.
- Women empowerment to secure their rights and prevent local customs, traditions through advocacy campaigns.
- Awareness on basic child rights (child education, child protection, child health etc), population planning and enhancement of women entrepreneurship.

E-Guard Project with the support of Akhtar Hameed Khan Memorial trust (AHKMT) ----

Distribution of hand carts)

Attia Welfare Society (AWS) implemented a project “Shelter for excluded families in the district of Rajan Pur” with the support of AHKMT. An MOU was signed between AWS and TMA Rajan Pur for the implementation of the project. All the process was facilitated by AHKMT between AWS and TMA. As a result of this MOU twenty sanitary workers were provided twenty hand carts and uniform and gave the name of E-guard to make them respectful.

Sanitary workers are the neglected and marginalized group of Pakistani Community. They often live in miserable condition due to their work, indeed in Rajan Pur being a sanitary worker comes with enormous stigma. Lacking most basic rights such as housing, education etc, situations are often worst in small cities like Rajan Pur. These sanitary workers are the permanent employees of Tehsil Municipal Administration of Rajan Pur. The housing situation of target community of Rajan Pur is dire. The houses of this community are unsafe, shaky make shift at best while most families live in air shacks only covered by sheets. The income sources of these families are not enough to support the community in the most basic way, let alone having surplus to finance the rebuilding of their houses.

In 2015, AWS provided the material, training and support to the beneficiaries to be able to build their own shelters. In this way 20 one room shelters were provided to twenty sanitary workers of TMA Rajan Pur with the support of AHKMT.

Objective of the project:

- To improve the living of marginalized sanitary workers
- Make sure to upgrade the most vulnerable community
- Involve the community in productive activities
- Train the sanitary workers for construction skills
- Recover the equitable community and drive them positively
- Develop the sense of respect and responsibility

Training on Solid Waste Management

Attia Welfare Society trained the sanitary workers on solid waste management. They were also trained how to sort out the organic and inorganic material from the garbage. As a result they got raw material like plastic, iron etc; which they could sell and increased their income. Here are the following views of sanitary workers which they expressed:

Views of the Sanitary Workers:

1. Sanitary worker Ghulam Nabi said, “Thanks to Allah Almighty and Attia welfare society, I have increased my earning by training. During Sanitation, I get many things like plastic, iron and paper. By selling these things, I can earn easily 80 to 150 rupees daily. Now I can easily fulfill my needs of daily life.”
2. Sanitary workers Khadim Hussain and Shahid Hussain told happily that they were very happy after getting training on solid waste management. They first had to wait the end of the month for their salary to fulfill their needs. But now they can easily fulfill their needs because of hand carts and training given by Attia Welfare Society.

Training for Rural Development Agricultural & Enterprise Skill for Farmers

Pakistan is an agricultural country. The literacy rate of Pakistan is near about 48-50 percent. Most of population of the Pakistan is related to the passion of agriculture. District Rajan Pur is most backward area and literacy rate is lowest amongst 36 districts of Punjab. Most of the people of Rajan Pur are associated to the profession of agriculture sector. Keeping in view the importance of agriculture, AWS felt the dire need that there should be a Training program to raise their source of income. AWS took a self-initiative with the support of district government and develop a project including trainings for the farmers of district Rajan Pur to eradicate extreme poverty and hunger (One of The MDGs) in Pakistan, improvement in the living standard/ income generation of the farming community is very essential. Keeping in view the importance of agriculture, AWS has taken concrete steps to enhance the productivity of crops & to reduce the input costs through introduction of latest techniques / technologies and their demonstration to farming communities. The objectives of the project were:

- Disseminate and share best practices for progressive agricultural farming like, zero tillage for wheat, sowing of cotton on beds and furrows, laser leveling, pest scouting.
- To help small farmers raise their income to better agronomic practices
- To train cotton technicians in rural communities
- To demonstrate a community based agriculture extension methodology

Latest techniques of Cultivation:

The following latest techniques of cultivation may used;

- ✓ Use of laser technology for the preparation and leveling of land
- ✓ Choose the best quality of seeds
- ✓ Use of spray to damage the Medicinal herb
- ✓ Use of spray with the consultation of agriculture research officer.
- ✓ Use of water and pesticides
- ✓ Test of soil
- ✓ In time cutting and threshing of crop
- ✓ You should be competent in skill training that you have given to the farmer for the development of agriculture
- ✓ The farmers should have the ability to repair the tube well, engine and tractor. It will save valuable time and capital as well.
- ✓ Training for livestock, poultry farming and fish farming should be provided due to which people's income will increase.

The trend is becoming popular that mostly people of rural areas are migrated towards urban areas due to diversity. If the Economic condition of people of rural areas will be better then they will not migrate to the cities. The situation is very visible, according to census of 1998, 70% people of the total population of Pakistan were inhabited in the rural areas.

If we examine the current situation due to the unemployment 10% people have moved to cities. Pressure is increasing on the urban population. And cultivable lands around the cities are converting to the colonies. There can be the shortage of food due to the increase in the population. From agriculture department of district Rajan Pur field officer Faiz Ahmed Langah participated in the session and introduce with the latest agricultural style.

From the water management department, District officer Saif-Ullah told that Water management working on paved water reservoir and due to this there can be controlled on the shortage of water.

From FMC, Mr. Ghulam Qasim provide information about the about pesticides.

Livestock doctor Mr. Saif-Ullah told to the farmers that through the livestock you can increase the quantity of meat and milk and can earn maximum profit. It was a very informative session for the farmers. AWS invited all the government officials and concerned strake holders to participate in the activity. Although it was a self initiative of AWS but due to the participation of Government officials it creates an environment of trust and confidence between concerned stakeholders and farmers. AWS succeeded to play a role of middle man between farmers and concerned stakeholders. It will produce a great impact in coming days.

Hand washing with soap is the most effective and inexpensive way to prevent diarrheal and acute respiratory infections, which take the lives of millions of children in developing countries every year. Together, they are responsible for the majority of all child deaths. Yet, despite its lifesaving potential, hand washing with soap is seldom practiced and difficult to promote. The challenge is to transform hand washing with soap from an abstract good idea into an automatic behavior performed in homes, schools, and communities worldwide. Turning hand washing with soap before eating and after using the toilet into an ingrained habit could save more lives than any single vaccine or medical intervention, cutting deaths from diarrhea by almost half and deaths from acute respiratory infections by one-quarter

Health & Hygiene

Mr. Javed Aslam discussed the topic of health & hygiene. He told the basic points in detail to all the participants.
